(3) HOSTILITIES REPORT.—The term “hostilities report” means a written report that sets forth the following information:

(4) INTRODUCE.—The term “introduce” means—

(A) with respect to hostilities or a situation where there is a serious risk of hostilities, any commitment, engagement, or other involvement of United States forces, whether or not constituting self-defense measures by United States forces in response to an attack or serious risk thereof in any foreign country (including its air-

(5) Serious Risk of Hostilities.—The term “serious risk of hostilities” means any situation where it is more likely than not that the United States forces will become engaged in hostilities, irrespective of whether the primary purpose of the mis-

(7) Substantially Enlarge.—The term “substantially enlarge” means, for any two-year period, an increase in the number of United States forces that causes the total number of forces in a foreign country to exceed the lowest number of forces in that country during that period by 25 percent or more, or any increase of 1,000 or more forces. Temporary duty and rotational forces shall be included in the number of United States forces for the purposes of this title.

(8) Training.—When used with respect to any foreign regular or irregular forces, the term “training” has the meaning given the term “military education and training” in section 644 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2403), but does not include training that is focused entirely on observance of and respect for the law of armed conflict, human rights and fundamental freedoms, the rule of law, and civilian control of the military.

The President shall provide continuing hostilities reports to Congress 30 days after the initial report and every 30 days thereafter, in accordance with subsection (d).

(b) Authorization for Certain Activities Relating to Hostilities.—In cases where the President introduces United States forces into hostilities or a situation where there is a serious risk of hostilities either because of the need to repel a sudden attack upon the United States, its territories or possessions, its armed forces, or other United States citizens overseas or because the concrete, specific, and immediate threat of such a sudden attack, and the time required to provide Congress with a briefing necessary to inform a vote to obtain prior authorization from Congress within 72 hours would prevent an 1 effective defense against the attack or threat of immediate 2 attack, the President shall—3
4 (1) within 48 hours of ordering the introduction
5 of United States forces into hostilities or a situation 6 where there is a serious risk of hostilities, inform 7 Congress of the President’s decision, describe the ac-

23 situation that triggered this requirement; and 24
25 (B) does not intend to reintroduce them.
26
27 (c) Termination of Activities Related to Hos-28 tilities.—If Congress does not enact a specific statutory 29 authorization for United States forces to engage in hos-30 tilities in response to a request in accordance with subsection (b) within 20 days after the introduction of United States forces into hostilities or a situation where there is a serious risk of hostilities, the President shall withdraw, remove, and otherwise cease the use of United States forces. This 20-day period shall be extended for not more than an additional 10 days if the President determines, certifies, and justifies to Congress in writing that unavoidable military necessity involving the safety of the forces requires the continued use of the forces for the sole purpose of bringing about their safe removal from hostilities.
(d) CONTINUING HOSTILITIES REPORTS.—If the President obtains specific statutory authorization, the President shall continue to provide hostilities reports to Congress on the United States’ forces’ engagement or possible engagement in hostilities whenever there is a material change in the information previously reported under this section and in no event less frequently than every 30 days from the delivery of the first hostilities report.
(e) FORM.—Any report submitted pursuant to subsection (a), (b), or (d) shall be submitted to Congress in

(e) CONSIDERATION.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—On or after the third calendar day after the date on which the committee to which such a resolution is referred has reported, or has been discharged (under subsection (d)) from further consideration of, such a resolution, it is in order (even though a previous motion to the same effect has been disagreed to) for any Member of the respective House to move to proceed to the consideration of the resolution. All points of order against the resolution (and against consideration of the resolution) are waived. The motion is highly privileged in the House of Representatives and is privileged in the Senate and is not debatable. The motion is not subject to amendment, or to a motion to postpone, or to a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is agreed to or disagreed to shall not be in order. If a motion to proceed to the consideration of the resolution is agreed to, the respective House shall immediately proceed to consideration of the joint resolution without intervening motion, order, or other business, and the resolution shall remain the unfinished business of the respective House until disposed of.
(2) DEBATE.—Debate on the resolution, and on all debatable motions and appeals in connection therewith, shall be limited to not more than 10 hours, which shall be divided equally between those favoring and those opposing the resolution. An amendment to the resolution is not in order. A motion further to limit debate is in order and not debatable. A motion to postpone, or a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business, or a motion to recommit the resolution is not in order. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the resolution is agreed to or disagreed to is not in order.

(3) VOTE ON FINAL PASSAGE.—Immediately following the conclusion of the debate on the resolution and a single quorum call at the conclusion of the debate if requested in accordance with the rules of the appropriate House, the vote on final passage of the resolution shall occur.

(4) APPEALS FROM DECISIONS OF CHAIR.—Appeals from the decisions of the Chair relating to the application of the rules of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, to the procedure relating to a resolution shall be decided without debate.

(f) CONSIDERATION BY OTHER HOUSE.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—If, before the passage by one House of a resolution of that House described in subsection (b), that House receives from the other House a resolution described in subsection (b), then the following procedures shall apply:

(A) The resolution of the other House shall not be referred to a committee.

(B)(i) The consideration as described in (e) in that House shall be the same as if no resolution had been received from the other House;
but

(ii) The vote on final passage shall be on the resolution of the other House.

(2) FOLLOWING DISPOSITION.—Upon disposition of the resolution received from the other House, it shall no longer be in order to consider the resolution that originated in the receiving House.

(g) VETOES.—If the President vetoes a resolution, debate in the Senate of any veto message with respect to the resolution, including all debatable motions and appeals in connection with the resolution, shall be limited to 10 hours, which shall be divided equally between those favoring and those opposing the resolution.

(h) RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REP-RESENTATIVES.—This section is enacted by Congress—18

(1) as an exercise of the rulemaking power of the Senate and the House of Representatives, respectively, and as such it is deemed a part of the rules of each House, respectively, but applicable only with respect to the procedure to be followed in that House in the case of a resolution described in subsection (b), and it supersedes other rules only to the extent that it is inconsistent with such rules; and

(2) with full recognition of the constitutional right of either House to change the rules (so far as relating to the procedure of that House) at any time, in the same manner, and to the same extent as in the case of any other rule of that House.

is required under this title but has not been obtained, or for which authorization is required under this title but has not been obtained by the deadline specified in section 106(c) or for which a resolution of disapproval in accordance with section 107(b) has been enacted into law.
SEC. 109. INTERPRETATION OF STATUTORY AUTHORITY

REQUIREMENT.
