In his "I have a Dream" speech, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr said, "Now is the time to make justice a reality for all God's children." When I grow up, I want to be a judge because I think justice for all is important. As a judge, I would help all people who appear in the courtroom no matter what their background is. I am interested in being a judge because I think it makes you feel good to help all people. In the meantime, I don't need to be a judge to help people right now. I can help people now in my school because I can sit with someone if they are new and alone. I can help at home by being kind to my family. I can help in baseball by comforting someone if they strike out. You are never too young to make a difference!
